Continuation and First Meeting Rule for Conservation Commission

Effective July 1, 2021, any applicant before the Conservation Commission that exceeds two consecutive continuation requests shall be required to have a Representative attend the next scheduled meeting for an application status discussion. If the applicant does not have a Representative attend the next scheduled meeting to discuss the application, the Conservation Commission reserves the right to render a decision without further discussion or input from the applicant. All applicants are required to attend the first scheduled meeting of the conservation commission after submittal of their application.
